Five-State Strike Is Threatened

New York, Oct. 29.—A five-state general strike, effective tomorrow, of all unions affiliated with the CIO was threatened today by Richard Frankenstein, national director of aviation for the United Automobile Works unless an immediate settlement is reached in the month-old UAW strike at the Bendix, N. J., plant of Air Associates, Inc.

In a telegram to President Roosevelt, Frankenstein declared that "We have no course but to use the large scale economic strength of our organization to protect the interests of our union and our members at the Air Associates plant."

The States that will be affected if the walkout is called are New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Maryland.

Decline To Make Secret Map Public

Washington, Oct. 29.—Diplomatic quarters in Washington today believe that the five nations mentioned by President Roosevelt as the proposed vassal states for a Nazi empire in South America are Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru and Colombia.

The White House and State Department still decline to make public the secret map for the alleged division of South and Central America on the grounds that publication might enable Berlin to trace the sources from which the Government obtained the document.

Neutral diplomatic sources, however, expressed the belief that the plan probably is based on one reported some time ago to have been drafted by the Geopolitical Institute in Munich under the direction of Dr. Karl Haushofer.

This institute is reported to have made a careful study of South America on the basis of German, Italian and Spanish influences there.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH---AND MORE

In 1941 the Borough Council of Bristol reduced the tax rate from 13 mills to 11 mills. This makes the present rate the lowest the Borough has had for more than fifteen years and is in direct contrast to rising taxes everywhere right now.

This reduction was not a sudden move. It was the climax of a series of such cuts which began eight years ago.

In 1933—the rate was reduced from 14 mills to 13½ mills.

In 1934—the assessed valuation was reduced ten per cent.

In 1937—the rate was reduced from 13½ mills to 13 mills.

In 1941—the rate was reduced from 13 mills to 11 mills.

Through all these years, the years of the depression, the Borough of Bristol has met all of its obligations promptly when due, operating on a definite pay-as-you-go policy. All bills have been discounted and the bonded indebtedness has been steadily reduced. Now that 11-mill tax rate covers all Borough expenses.

The ten per cent reduction of the assessed valuation in 1934 is a most important cut. Some communities stress their low tax rates when actually their taxes are high—because their assessed valuation (the base to which the tax rate is applied) is high. The Borough of Bristol has a low tax rate from any angle.

The Borough Code of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania stipulates that any borough may legally assess taxes up to a rate of 15 mills for general purposes alone. For its bonded indebtedness and its sinking fund, a borough may assess more. It can add still further to the tax rate to meet the costs of fire protection and street lights. In the case of the Borough of Bristol, this legal tax rate could amount to some twenty-five mills. Yet the Borough Council is providing all those required services and much more—all for 11 mills, less than half of the tax rate that could legally be assessed under the provisions of the Borough Code. That's efficient and economic management.

Of those 11 mills, the Borough Council has allocated seven and thirty-eight one hundredths mills for general Borough purposes, and three and sixty-two one hundredths mills for debt purposes (paying interest and retiring matured bonds).

According to the Borough Code of the State, the bond tax rate must be sufficient in revenue to meet interest payments and to retire matured bonds over the period of issue. The only surplus that can legally be accumulated for the retirement of bonds is in the Sinking Fund.

Few, if any, municipalities are entirely free of bonded indebtedness. The Borough of Bristol, covering an area of approximately seven and one-half square miles and having a total assessed valuation of more than seven million dollars, had a net debt of $160,340.12 on December 31, 1940.

All interest on this debt is being paid promptly and the principal is being reduced at the rate of about $16,000 every year.

The last bond issue by the Borough was in 1932. Bonds to

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

A Contrast

Washington, Oct. 28.
IT would be hard to find any detached and informed person here who would dissent from the statement that there are far too many press agents, publicity directors, information agencies and propaganda bureaus connected with the defense organization to permit of an even reasonable degree of competence or clear thinking.

IN cost and in number they exceed anything ever dreamed of before and are partly responsible for the murky clouds of confusion in which the whole effort is enveloped. If there were nothing else, the multitude of these overlapping, uncoordinated and unconnected agencies would destroy any possibility of efficient functioning of the machine.

One way and another, there are almost as many people engaged in telling what is being done as there are engaged in doing it. And those engaged in the telling are often more furiously active than those engaged in the doing.

IT is a strange state of affairs. Everybody knows that things would be improved if the publicity and propaganda forces were cut down, condensed and co-ordinated. But, instead of being cut down they are piled up; instead of being condensed, they almost daily expand. Their output is enormous. Recently, the New York Times estimated that this "information service" will cost more than $10,000,000 this year, and that there are in it now an army of 1,536 newspaper reporters, clerks, poets, psychologists, cartoonists, song writers, playwrights and novelty parveyors. These are being added to every day. Eight Government agencies are concerned with defense information, but there are twenty-six which operate in the

ARMY STAFF WORK

Much of Germany's military success is due to superior staff work. Nearly all experts say that the German staff job in the invasion of The Netherlands, Belgium and France last year was practically perfect. The army knew what it would meet. It knew what help it could expect from fifth columnists. It had a schedule which it maintained at any cost. Its only mistake was in believing that French resistance would be greater.

According to an official British report, "Bomber Command," which has just been published, much of Germany's success may have been due to poor co-ordination of the British and French armies. The British declare in the report that Gamelin, who was in supreme command, refused to allow them to use their heavy bombers against German troop concentrations on German soil. He was afraid of injuring civilians.

The British could not use their most effective heavy bombing planes, they maintain, until the Germans began to move, and the planes were far less effective against columns than they would have been against masses of soldiers.

During the winter preceding the invasion of France, there was so little fighting that the war was called a phony war. It was during that time of action that the Germans worked out their staff problems in maneuvers and the British and French apparently failed to decide what use to make of the heavy British bombers, one of their most effective weapons.

While they did not repeat the World War mistake of dividing the command, they apparently did not do the staff job necessary to make the most effective use of unified command.

Gamelin may have feared reprisals, but he should have known from the fate of Warsaw in the fall of 1939 that the Germans would not spare civilians and could not be trusted to reciprocate a sparing by the British and French. It is a sorry story, but it tends to prove that no army can be better than its staff.

An old-timer is one who can remember the relatively calm days of three months ago when a big problem was whether projected pipelines from Texas to New York could be completed in time to prevent all automobiles in the East from being grounded by lack of gasoline?

One shipment of Argentine eggs which arrived in New York contained 16,000,000. They should be good and ripe by 1944.

Japanese belligerency continues to ebb and flow with the fortunes of Hitler in Russia.

non-defense agencies and the whole business is in an awful mess.

THAT is an indisputable truth. Nobody is in a position of authority over these publicity agencies, but several hundred Government officials have something to say in their direction. Some are engaged in putting out favorable publicity about what is going on. Others are interested in keeping the facts under cover. Still others concern themselves with radio, moving pictures, illuminated crystal balls and the interchange of "cultural ideas." And others still point out the wickedness of those who do not applaud. The most recent of the information agencies is the "Office of Facts and Figures." But what this bureau is to do still remains hazy and unexplained. It is not, for example, to supercede, curtail, direct or even supervise such large and expensive agencies as Mr. Horton's $750,000-a-year OPM bureau, or the Treasury's million-dollar setup, or Mr. Nelson Rockefeller's elaborate establishment of glamor boys and girls intent upon spreading sunshine and light among our Latin-American neighbors, or the classy circle presided over by Colonel Donovan, where some 200-odd bright young men, including Capt. Jimmie Roosevelt, are devoting themselves to what the Times calls "psychological warfare," or the Office of Government Reports, directed by the modest Mr. Lowell Mellett, which makes its own digest of defense information.

CONSIDERING this bewildering situation, with its ten million dollar expenditure, its motley pay-roll army and its many glittering commanders, the contrast drawn in Collier's this week, by Mr. George Creel, who headed the Wilson War Committee on Information, is an impressive one. It seems that in this as in other matters the Wilson example might have been followed to advantage. The Wilson idea was that while cluttering up the landscape with boards and commissions was an almost inevitable part of the democratic process, the war powers of the President should enable him to simplify things. His plan was to designate one boss for each job, give him full power and hold him to full responsibility. President Roosevelt has proceeded in the exact opposite direction. He has multiplied the boards and commissions and designated no one as boss.

SO far as publicity and information were concerned, in the last war Mr. Creel was the sole boss, reporting directly to the President and operating much more efficiently than the present setup at less than one-tenth the cost. The striking thing about Mr. Creel's article, which might profitably be pondered at the White House, is his recollection of what Mr. Wilson said to him when he gave him the job. Here it is: "We do not need less criticism in time of war but more. Honesty and competence require no shield of secrecy. The people have a right to know what is in the mind of the President and every forward step should be taken in the open. Before a sound public opinion can be formed it must be informed—not manipulated, not tricked, not wheedled but given all the facts."

"A FREE people," Mr. Wilson continued, "are not children to be humored, cajoled or lollypopped with half truths for fear the whole truth will frighten them. There, of course, are military matters that must be kept secret, but in the great majority of cases concealments proceed from bureaucratic distrust of democratic common sense." He urged a free and uninterrupted flow of news on production and construction—the good along with the bad. No one will contend that this is the Roosevelt policy. On the contrary, the whole weight of the "information services" is exerted to cover up the failures of the defense effort and the truth only emerges through the fearless statements of such men as Senator Byrd, of Virginia, whom the Administration constantly seeks to discredit.

The plaintiff, Lawrence, who is a Reading Company employe, said he was travelling south on Route 309, south of Sellersville, February 8th, when his car figured in an accident with a car driven by William Hoff, Jr., whose car was stationary, and also that of the defendant.

Lawrence was taken to Grand View Hospital, Sellersville, where he was found to be suffering from injuries.

Hoff alleges that his car was standing still in the middle lane of the highway when it was struck by a car driven by Stick.

Washington, Oct. 29—Preparations were made today for a meeting between John L. Lewis, mine workers' czar, and Myron Taylor, of the U. S. Steel Corp., in a final effort to end the strike of 53,000 miners before the Government intervenes.

Taylor was fresh from a White House conference with President Roosevelt, while Lewis was reported determined to spurn an offer from the steel corporation permitting the defense mediation board to decide the union shop controversy which led to the walkout of the miners employed in steel company-owned coal mines.

President Roosevelt, ready to send a special message to Congress on labor legislation if today's conference fails, had a long session at the White House last night with Taylor and William H. Davis, mediation board chairman.

County Superintendent Boehm reported county board activities as follows: Sponsored one public institute course for school board secretaries and two for school custodians and janitors; sponsored an annual conference for school bus drivers and operators and for school board secretaries; purchased audiometers, a telebinocular and subscription to legislative service, School Board Journal and national schools; approved new vocational agriculture courses; requested new office equipment from county commissioners; approved the development of regional superintendents and consultants, 2 half days for one county 8th grade examination, and the filing of duplicate rating cards.

Initiated the development of and distribution of two statistical studies, one on high school teachers' salaries and one on collection of real estate and per capita taxes; sponsored N. Y. A. defense program and approved the appointment of Mrs. Elinor Geiger. Approved various applications for courses under this set-up; planned school directors' meetings and the annual dinner meeting at Harrisburg; approved school budgets realizing the difficulty under which 1941-42 budgets were made with so much uncertainty in pending legislation. However, the board explained that all school boards should wipe out all short term loans while there was a period of general employment and taxes were being paid; approved most of the auditor reports, delaying approval on others pending a check-up on bonds for tax collectors and school board treasurers.

Presentation of certificates to those completing the school board secretaries' course was made by R. Chapman Carver, assistant principal, Public Institute, Department of Public Instruction, to the following directors: Walter M. Carwithen, Doylestown; W. A. Roberts, Newtown; Harry S. Mosser, West Rockhill; David M. Rau, Durham township; Howard Vansant, Langhorne; Walter S. Miller, Langhorne-Middletown; Frank Moll, New Britain township; Kenneth P. Wonder, New Britain; Dr. Adolph Berg, Doylestown township; William B. Carver, Buckingham; Titus K. Moyer, Roland C. Benner, Perkaskie; Henry R. Bauman, Milford; Arthur B. Clayton, Lower Southampton; Mabel K. Stover, Warwick; Adeline L. Kelly, Warrington; Samuel G. Detweiler, Bedminster; Albert Macklin, Bedminster; Eileen Jamison, Ivyland; Grace H. Naylor, Wrightstown; Oscar Harrison, Hulmeville; Quintus S. Lerch, Tinticum; George G. Gayman, Plumsteadville; Harry Riebel, Chalfont; William Smith, Upper Makefield.

Other resolutions adopted included the following: "We commend the County Board for its sponsorship of the (1) Public Institute course for School Board secretaries and for school janitors (2) First county in Pennsylvania to call a county conference of school bus drivers (3) annual school board secretaries conference beginning May 6, 1942.

"We commend the County Board leadership in making possible County Clinics for (1) Examination of sight and hearing (2) Reading (3) Speech, and endorse voluntary clinic fund contributions for the school year 1942-43.

"We express our appreciation to the office of the County Superintendent (1) for the manner in which the school board and school board secretaries in particular were kept informed on pending activities of the past legislature and (2) for the assistance rendered in securing teachers for many of our school boards during the unprecedented demand in July, August and September.

"We recommend that study and consideration be given to the following proposals: (1) Medical examination of all bus drivers every three years. (2) That the efficiency of our elementary school programs not be reduced in order to continually expand our high school programs. (3) That the needs of our elementary teachers be met with a specialist in any reorganization of the County Staff. (4) That increased emphasis should be given to our elementary and secondary school reading programs. (5) That the Bucks County Interscholastic Association give attention to the possibility of a county annual containing the best of the poetry and other scholastic literature."

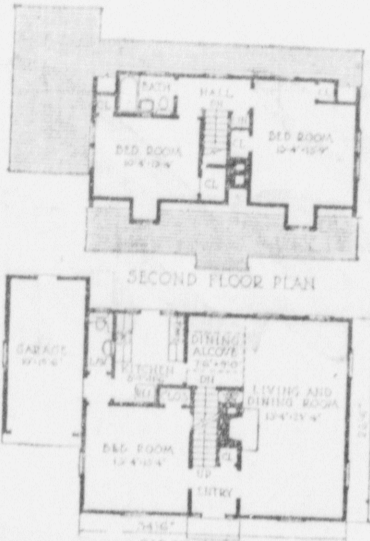

Dr. Lee L. Driver, formerly of the Department of Public Instruction, addressed the morning session.

BEAUTY ON A BUDGET

This little, white house, planned for a lot surrounded by trees or heavy foliage, has everything that could be desired in a budget-built dwelling. The outside appearance would be hard to match for proportions or beauty even in a higher-priced home. Its striking simplicity, with the attaching garage and unusual roof line, ward a box-like appearance, is nearly classic in effect. Inside, the spacious living room, with its large, open fireplace, the cozy breakfast nook or dining alcove, the good-sized kitchen, the lavatory, and the first-floor bedroom seem features too numerous and roomy to be contained in such a small house. The ground-floor bedroom could be used as a dining room, if the two second-floor bedrooms can take care of the entire family.

The National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, 1337 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C., can give you details. Refer to Design 2-3-7-T.

Thomas J. Burns

The son of the late John and Katherine Burns, Thomas J. Burns was born in Bristol on April 29, 1887. He was educated in the schools of the Borough and in St. Mark's School.

For thirty-five years he has been employed in the Grundy mill, where he is a wool sorter.

In Bristol on October 19, 1909, Mr. Burns married Miss Adah Pearl Adams, of Burlington, N. J. They are the parents of three sons and two daughters.

Mr. Burns and his family reside in the fifth ward at 328 Jefferson avenue. He is a member of St. Mark's Church.

Well-known to the residents of his ward and even better known to the voters as an elections official for a generation, Mr. Burns now asks their support for another elective office. As a candidate for the Borough Council, from the fifth ward, he offers to the voters a name which has long been familiar on the Republican ticket in his ward. For thirty years they have elected Thomas J. Burns either inspector or judge of elections. He merits that same support now for election to the Borough Council.

Seeks Election

Daniel A. Bonner

Born on July 30, 1896 in Silver Brook, Schuylkill County, Mr. Bonner is the son of Mrs. Cecelia Bonner and late Neil Bonner.

He was educated in the Schuylkill County public schools at Coaldale. Coming to Bristol in 1908, Mr. Bonner was employed by various local firms. For twenty years he has worked for the Badenhause Boiler Corporation in Cornwells Heights.

On November 25, 1916, Mr. Bonner married. He and his wife, Sarah, are the parents of five daughters, ranging in age from five years to twenty-one.

The Bonner family resides at 433 Jefferson avenue and is well known to the residents of the fifth ward, whose support Mr. Bonner is seeking in the coming election.

Mr. Bonner is a member of St. Mark's Church.

A Bristol man for more than thirty years and a Republican since started to vote, Daniel A. Bonner's first time is asking the support of his neighbors and friends in the fifth ward as a candidate for election. They know him and they know he would represent them well in the Borough Council.

the amount of $27,000 were issued at that time to pay for the Green Lane underpass. This sum represents the Borough's share in the cost of eliminating the dangerous grade-crossing that had existed at that spot.

Those are the financial facts about the Borough of Bristol. To the interested taxpayer and to the conscientious citizen, study of those figures can reveal only one thing. The Borough Council is giving the people their money's worth—and more.

It is paying promptly all the bills of the Borough, it is providing all the public services, and it is constantly reducing the cost to the taxpayer. It is an efficient government. But it is also something that is much more impressive in these times of soaring taxes and incredible public debts—the Republican administration of this Borough is economical. It saves the people's money.

Remember that. And remember that the Democratic party, in its first six years in Washington, ran the public debt from $19,000,000,000 up to $40,000,000,000. Remember that this was the total in 1938, long before the national defense program ever began.

Remember what the Earle administration in this State did in the two years 1937-39—spending $181,000,000 more than the expenditures of the last two years when the State had a Republican government (1933-35). That's an increase of 78 per cent.

That Democratic administration in Pennsylvania not only spent every dollar of revenue—it also increased the State debt by 56 per cent, and spent $50,000,000 more than it took in. Finally, it entered into commitments which would have required $160,000,000 in new and additional taxes—had they ever been carried out.

The present Republican administration of Governor Arthur H. James is cleaning up that mess and putting the affairs of the Commonwealth in order. But remember what the Democrats did in Harrisburg and in Washington—read those figures over again. And then look at the figures for Bristol.

There you have the financial picture of what the Republican administration of the Borough of Bristol has done—in contrast to what was done elsewhere.

farm products so that all farmers can live.

The subject was "Agricultural Economics," and the speaker said:

"Although Pennsylvania is considered an industrial State, farming is its largest business. It is the only billion dollar business in the Commonwealth.

"Through co-operation farmers can get together for pleasure, for expressing their opinions and for solving agricultural problems which may arise.

"Help given to the farmers helps other workers. If the farmer is paid a reasonable price for his product, he has the money to buy the output of other workers, and so by producing and using does his bit for national welfare.

(By the Rev. James R. Gailey)
Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church
Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, give to us faith—faith in Christ as our personal, all-sufficient Saviour. Give to us hope—the hope that is an anchor to the soul, sure and steadfast, that entereth into that within the veil, and that will securely hold us in the midst of life's storms and trials. Give to us love—the perfect love that casteth out fear. Bestow upon us these blessings that we might the better serve Thee. Through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

GRAND THEATRE

From England's studios you have been thrilled with "Pygmalion," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "The Citadel," "A Yank at Oxford," all brought to you by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Now comes another, a picture hailed by the British press as the greatest ever made in that country, "The Stars Look Down," which opens today at the Grand Theatre.

It brings to the screen a glamorous new personality, Margaret Lockwood, dark-eyed beauty who in the picture leaped to the height of English stardom, playing a gorgeous but unscrupulous woman who nearly wrecks a man's career and his life work. It brings an engaging new male star to America in Michael Redgrave, noted English stage and screen actor.

The buy for 1942 3/4 5/22

WHEN we present this rugged Buick for 1942, we do so with no idea of "business as usual."

On the contrary, it is a decidedly unusual car built for unusual times, and you don't have to look far to see why.

Look at its frames—solid, substantial, husky, the sturdy sort of foundation every durable structure must have.

Look at the springs—all-coil springs, that never lose their easy comfort. Look at the new broadrim wheels that not only steady the ride but get maximum life from tires.

Look at the power plant. A valve-in-head straight-eight, with FIREBALL design—plus the top range—with-thrift of Compound Carburetion.

Look at bearings that go twice as long in engineers' tests under the same weight and load.

So—no matter how many years in your yardstick, lay them out beside Buick—and see how this rugged traveler takes their measure with plenty to spare!

COACH KALLENBACH PICKS TWO SQUADS TO PLAY HOCKEY

Will Represent Bristol High School On the Hockey Field TO PLAY BENSLEM Several of the Girls Are Showing A Natural Ability For the Game

After weeks of teaching stick-work and the finer points of the game, Coach Phyllis Kallenbach has picked two squads which will represent the Bristol high school on the hockey field in two games with Bensalem and Fallington.

Coach Kallenbach has also taken the girls to see various hockey matches in this section and instructed them to watch the players in the positions they were picked.

The Bristol high mentor has been especially pleased with the natural ability of some of the girls in the Junior High School, namely: Blanche Gillies, Ruth Ruby, Shirley Peet, Sophie Bielecki, Lillian Brownlee, Claire Clements, Theresa Cahill, Mary and Doris Riebel, and Virginia Saranzak.

These girls will form the nucleus of future hockey teams at the cardinal and gray institution and within a year or so will have enough experience to give Bristol a first-class team.

Already known for their ability on the basketball court, three senior girls, Helen VanAken, Gladys Cochran, and Margaret Brownlee, have been picked for the first squad.

Because of the large number of girls reporting after school hours, it was very difficult for Miss Kallenbach to definitely decide positions and in case substitutes are needed, the girls will substitute in a definite position.

The teams picked include:

Player	Position	Class
Helen VanAken	center forward	Senior
Gladys Cochran	right inside	Senior
Doris Stewart	right wing	Junior
Jean Griffith	center halfback	Junior
Margaret Brownlee	right halfback	Senior
Mary Bell	right fullback	Freshman
Alice Moffo	goalie	Freshman

It marked the first time this season that King had been able to push over a point. Her first point came after a few minutes of play when she received a pass from the center-halfback, Doris Gonzalez, and batted the pellet past the Buckingham goal-keeper. King increased the Bensalem lead to 2-0 at half-time by counting after receiving a short pass from Eleanor Hughes.

This 2-0 lead appeared big at the time but Eleanor Hughes' goals made victory certain and luckily they were made for Buckingham suddenly came to life to shoot in a pair of goals. Hughes' first point was made after she was on the receiving end of a pass from the wing position and her second was shot past Goal-keeper Holt after the defense did a fine job of passing to her.

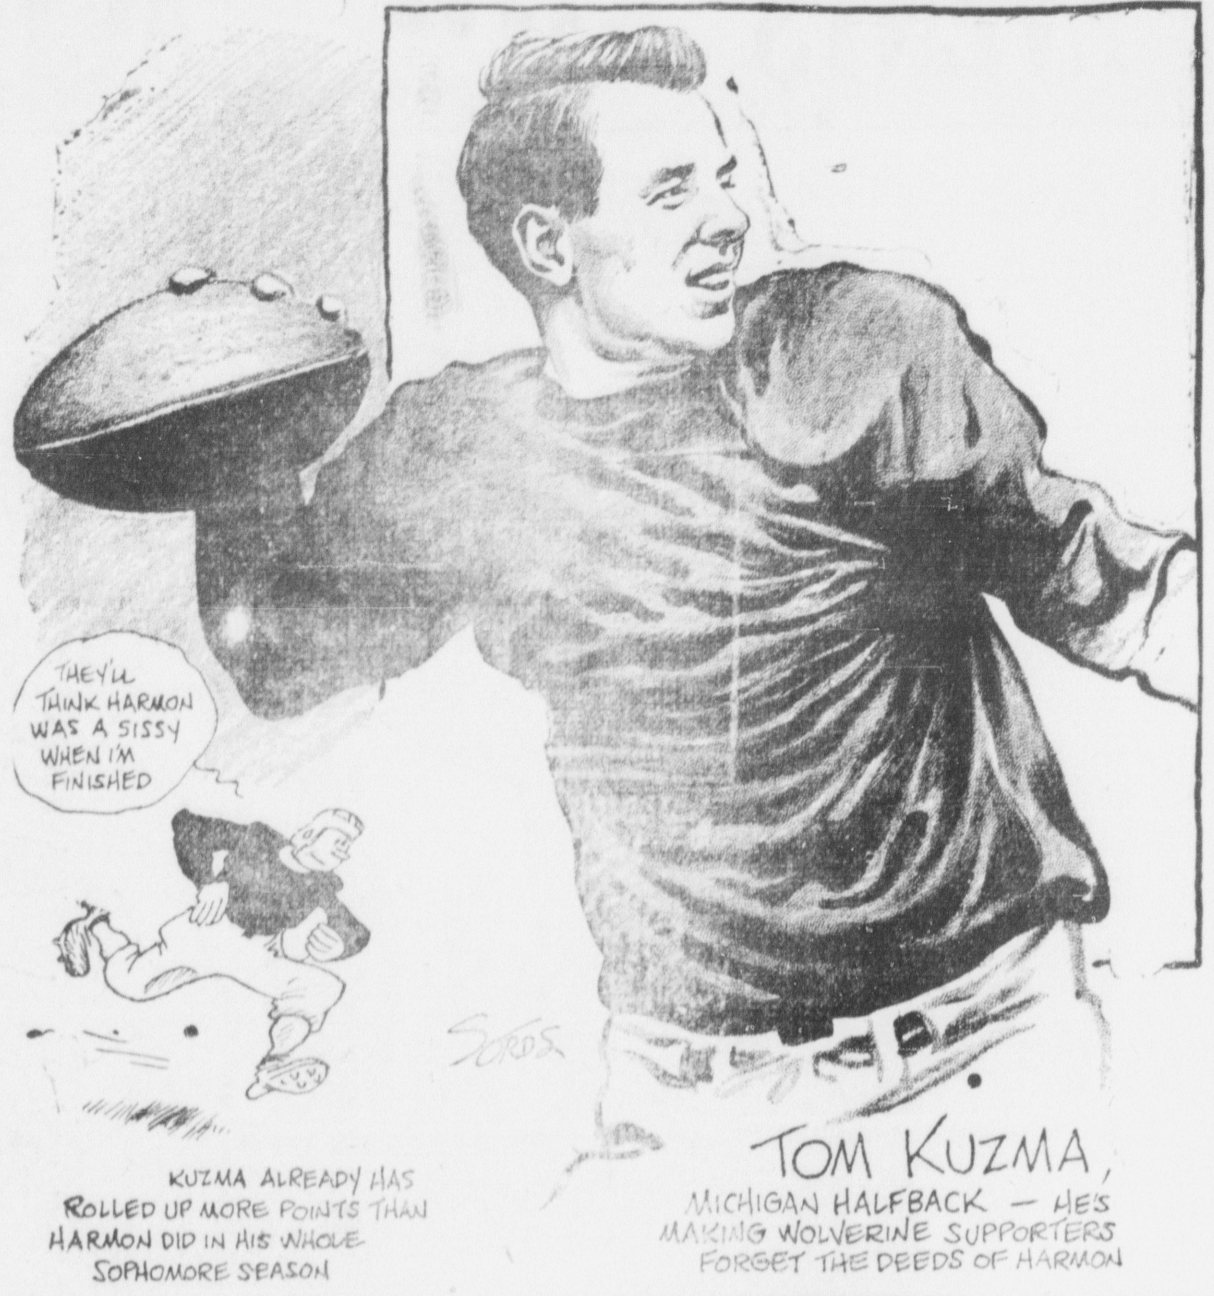

Not to be outdone, Edith James decided to score for her club. Although hopelessly beaten, Buckingham worked the ball into the striking circle from where James counted her first point and the second came shortly after with the aid of a pass from the wing position.

Bensalem has a chance to maintain its grip on first place by beating Newtown today while Buckingham and New Hope are battling it out at New Hope. Either a tie or a victory for Buckingham over New Hope will brighten the Bensalem hopes for the championship.

Player	Position	Class
Shirley Peet	center forward	Freshman
Sophie Bielecki	right inside	Freshman
Claire Clements	right wing	8th Grade
Josephine Novetta	center halfback	Sophomore
Florence Nepa	right fullback	Junior
Theresa Spezzano	goalie	Freshman

The following girls will act as substitutes: June Heath, Mary Accardi, Rose Marie Welsh, Marie Solt, Alice Solt, Mary Riebel, Doris Riebel, Virginia Saranzak, Jennie Bono, Dora Paci, and Ethel Sedgwick.

NEW HARMON By Jack Sords

BENSLEM GIRLS WIN OVER BUCKINGHAM AND GO INTO FIRST PLACE IN THE LEAGUE

Scoring twice in each period, the Bensalem girls' hockey team leaped into first place in the Lower Bucks County League, defeating Buckingham 4-2, on the Owlet's field.

A pair of goals by both Gail King and Eleanor Hughes gave the Bensalemites the triumph. Hughes scored both her goals in the second half to give the Smith girls a 4-0 lead. However, before the tilt was over, James registered twice for Buckingham to shave two points from the Bensalem lead.

Newtown Youth Battles For the Ithaca Eleven

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 29—Donald Sutton, of George School, Newtown, played on the Ithaca College Jayvee football team that recently battled St. Lawrence to a scoreless deadlock at Canton.

Two other games had been booked for the Bombers, but they were cancelled when Coach Ben Light was unable to round up a strong all-freshman outfit to meet opponents. Several frosh are now on the varsity squad, three being in the regular starting lineup. There were insufficient leftovers to form a frosh combination.

Sutton, who plays right guard, is a junior in the physical education department at Ithaca College. He is a former George School athlete.

Will Open Additional Grounds For Hunting

SELLERSVILLE, Oct. 29—We expect to have several thousand acres of open hunting grounds near here soon," said Abram Mitman, president of the North Penn Fish, Game and Forestry Association, at the session of the sportsmen, here, recently.

Mr. Mitman said that more than 250 acres had been selected near here by the Pennsylvania Game Commission for purchase as public game land and as a refuge for game. With that as a start Mr. Mitman believes many more acres can be opened to the hunters or reserved as refuges to maintain wild life for this end of Bucks county.

DOG GETS TANGLED UP

ST. LOUIS — (INS) — Mrs. V. Schwartz's children have a little terrier, "Lucky," which recently became entangled in a rug while playing on the front porch. The dog began to choke and yelp. "Everyone thought Lucky had gone mad and refused to touch him," the mother said, "but our postman walked right through the crowd of neighbors standing around and unwound Lucky from the rug."

Wilson's took 3 from Crohe's Decorators to knock them out of first place.

The National League bowls on a double shift.
